DOMINICA AT A GLANCE

Though only a pinpoint on the world map, Dominica is simple yet complicated, relaxed yet very busy, sometimes seemingly locked in a past time, yet pushing into its future – a very alive place on this earth.

Simply stated, Dominica is picturesque. A diver's dream and a hiker's paradise, Dominica in its unspoiled beauty is unlike any other Caribbean destination. Known as "The Nature Island," tropical rainforests cover more than two-thirds of the island, offering a home to more than 1,200 plant species. It is one of the geologically youngest islands in the Caribbean chain and still evolving with continuous geothermal activity. The island's volcanic landscape consists of extremely rugged, mountainous terrain. It is home to the highest concentration of volcanoes on the planet; there are nine potentially active volcanoes on the island. Boiling Lake, the world's second-largest hot spring can be found here. The climate is spring-like; the sun is either shining or it is raining. A day doesn't go by where one doesn't see a rainbow.

Dominica is an island of unsurpassed natural beauty with warm, friendly people. It is 290 square miles in size, and is populated by just over 72,000 people. 365 rivers interlace the forests; there are a multitude of waterfalls, some falling hundreds of feet. The highest mountain is 4,746 feet tall.

 Language: English & French Patois

 Independence from UK: 1978

 Main Island: Dominica

WHY DOMINICA?

Dominica is surrounded by the often-tumultuous Atlantic Ocean on the east and the calming Caribbean Sea on the west. The majority of Dominica's beaches are black sand due to the island's volcanic upbringing. Dominica, a part of the Caribbean West Indies series of islands, is flanked closely by Guadeloupe to the north and Martinique to the south.

The Nature Island, Dominica, supports 3 National Parks / Forest Reserves that provide a multitude of hiking trails & paths (ranging from easy to very challenging) leading to numerous waterfalls, a volcanic boiling lake, a freshwater lake, dormant volcanoes and other rainforest attractions. A Marine Reserve offers a rich abundance of reefs, corals, fishes and other marine life; some of the best scuba diving in the world is experienced here. Whales and dolphins frequent the surrounding sea.

DOMINICA AT A GLANCE

Fish, fruit and vegetables provide everyday staples. The majority of citizens have gardens, and those that don't can rely upon their neighbors that do. Community markets, likewise, offer a wide variety of produce: bananas, plantains, mangos, oranges, grapefruit, limes, pineapples and a variety of other fruits and vegetables support Dominica's economy.

LOCATION

International flights from US and Europe are connected to the island through hubs in Antigua (ANU), Barbados (BGI), St. Maarten (SXM), Puerto Rico (SJU), Guadeloupe (PTP), and Martinique (FDF). Leeward Island Air Transport (LIAT) offers direct connections from ANU, BGI, SXM, SJU, and PTP, as well as other connecting flights across their 22-island network. BVI Airways provides service from St. Maarten and Tortola (EIS).

If you prefer to travel by sea, you can consider the catamarans, which seat 300- 400 passengers, and are operated by L'Express des Îles. The ferries transport passengers between Dominica, Guadeloupe, Martinique and St. Lucia.

Every year, hundreds of thousands of visitors arrive on the island from cruise ships at the Roseau Cruise Ship Berth, Woodbridge Bay, and Cabrits Cruise Ship Berth.

Captains and sailors can also anchor their private yachts or boats at any of the island's official ports, but they should check in with customs and immigration upon arrival.

WEATHER

January
average high/low temperature
85°F/68°F

July

HISTORY

Dominica's first inhabitants, the Ortoroids, arrived from South America around 3100 B. C., and lasted on the island until around 400 B. C. Next came the Arawaks, who settled in about 400 A. D. By 1400, the Kalinago or "Caribs," moved aggressively up the Caribbean from South America, eliminating the Arawak from the region. When Columbus ushered in the era of colonization to Dominica in 1493, the same fate that befell the Arawaks would threaten the Caribs.

Ignoring the Kalinago name of 'Waitukubuli,' meaning 'Tall is her Body,' Columbus, spotting the island on Nov. 3, 1493, a Sunday, renamed the island Dominica, after the day of the week. The Caribs successfully resisted efforts of Spanish colonization, but the British and French followed from the 1600's on, battling each other and the Caribs, to claim the Island.

Through the many battles and ravaged by disease, the Caribs gradually lost control of the island. However, today approximately 2,000 Caribs remain on the island. You may note that many of village names in and around Dominica are a mix of Carib, French and English, reflecting the power struggles of the last 500 years.

On November 3rd 1978, the island was finally granted its independence from Britain. The initial year of independence was a turbulent one. In June 1979 the island's first prime minister, Patrick John, was forced to resign after a series of corrupt schemes surfaced, including one land deal to transfer 15% of the island to U. S. developers. In August 1979 Hurricane David struck the island with devastating force. Forty-two people were killed and 75 % of the islanders' homes were destroyed or severely damaged.

In July 1980 Dame Eugenia Charles was elected prime minister, the first woman in the Caribbean to hold the office. Within a year of her inauguration she survived two unsuccessful coups. In October 1983 she endorsed the US invasion of Grenada.

The Dominican formalized their relations with Chinese governments in 2004 by helping to aide Windsor Park sports stadium in Roseau.

Today, the Government of Dominica is investing heavily in tourism to drive economic development, focusing on the island's unsurpassed natural beauty, and the popularity of diving, hiking and eco tours.

EXPLORE

Dominica, the Nature Isle of the Caribbean, has a multitude of adventures just waiting to be discovered and experienced. There are over 40 hiking trails that wind through dense rainforests and mountains...leading to waterfalls, mountain tops and lakes. Dominica's Caribbean Sea waters provide some of the best scuba diving and marine reserves in the world. Isolated, black-sand beaches offer solitude and tranquility for those that discover them. Over 360 freshwater rivers afford the opportunity to bath, swim and play in cold, crystal clear water. Visiting the Carib Territory and the native Kalinnago's gives a wealth of cultural insight to Dominica's first peoples and their ways of land and sea.

DIVING

If you dive to experience thrill, wonder and beauty, Dominica is for you. Here the sea below is as amazing as the land above: volcanic vents and plunging sea walls, colorful reefs and soft corals, sea turtles and sperm whales. Come dive into Dominica and find out why we are not only one of the top Caribbean diving destinations, but one of the best diving experiences in the world.

PRISTINE MARINE HABITAT

The underwater topography of Dominica mirrors the beautiful landscape above, with canyons and cliffs plunging to depths equal to the soaring mountain peaks above. Massive underwater boulder fields and volcanic craters accompany steep walls and pinnacles, setting the stage for some of the best diving in the Caribbean, and indeed the most breathtaking diving to be found anywhere.

MARINE RESERVES

Soufriere Scott's Head Marine Reserve, located in the southwest, is the oldest reserve on the island and offers the most popular volcanic underwater features. With virtually no current and unspoilt coral walls, The Cabrits National Park Marine is renowned for a large variety of rare fish. The earmarked Salisbury Marine Reserve in the central west area consists of a dozen sites with some of the healthiest and best reef diving in the Caribbean.

"CHAMPAGNE & VOLCANO"

Underwater volcanoes are the source of Dominica's dramatic underwater landscape: craters, chasms, sheer walls plunging thousands of feet, and soaring pinnacles formed by lava flow create an amazing underwater experience. Visit the "Champagne" dive site and swim through warm bubbling waters created by geothermal vents. You can feel the water temperature rise; the sea floor can be warm to the touch!

EXPLORE

SEA TURTLE VIEWING

Four of the seven species of sea turtles visit Dominica's shores - Loggerheads, Hawksbills, Green Sea Turtles, and the huge Leatherbacks.

Visit Rosalie Beach between March and October and you may catch a glimpse of one of the most fascinating rituals in the animal kingdom. After mating in the waters, the female sea turtle will come ashore to dig her nest, lay her eggs and smooth them over with sand to avoid detection.

In a few months the hatchlings will emerge and try to make their way back to sea. Great care must be taken to keep lights away from these areas. They can scare the female turtles and disorient the hatchlings. To witness this ritual is a privilege and the experience of a lifetime.

NATIONAL PARKS

Morne Trois Pitons National Park was established in 1975 as a national park and was named a World Heritage Site in 1997.

The Park is named after its highest mountain, Morne Trois Pitons, meaning 'mountain of three peaks.' The park is a significant area of volcanic activity and covers 17,000 acres, which includes: the Valley of Desolation—a region of boiling mud ponds and small geysers, the Boiling Lake, Titou Gorge, and Emerald Pool.

Cabrits National Park is located on the northern peninsula of the island just beyond the town of Portsmouth.

Established in 1986, Cabrits National Park occupies 1,313 acres and protects tropical forests, coral reefs and wetlands. When you are there make sure to visit the English garrison, Fort Shirley.

Morne Diablotin National Park is a national park in the northern mountain ranges of the island. The park covers 8,242 acres, and was established in 2000, primarily to protect the habitat of the endangered Sisserou Parrot, the national symbol of Dominica. The park is home to 4,747 foot high Morne Diablotin, the tallest mountain on the island and the second-highest mountain in the Lesser Antilles.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Abounding with physical activities, healing therapies and natural products, Dominica embodies the true essence of health and wellness. From hiking the rugged terrain, to soaking in the countless numbers of natural sulphur hot pools, the island truly lives up to its name as the Nature Island. Imagine yoga in the rainforest, relaxing with a soothing massage or revitalize with nutritious tropical juices and herbal teas. Experience aromatherapy and holistic medicine. Discover why Dominica boasts over twenty centenarians; a true fountain of youth!

Breathe in the island of Dominica, and feel the stresses of these modern times blow away in the island breeze.

DINING

You can expect an abundance of vegetables, fruits, and root crops to appear on menus around the island. Dominica's economy, after all, is based on agriculture. Sweet ripe plantains, kushkush (cornmeal), yams, breadfruit, dasheen (taro), fresh fish, and chicken, prepared at least a dozen different ways, are all staples.

The local drink is a delicious spiced rum steeped with herbs such as anisette (nanny) and pweve (lemongrass). Dominican cuisine is also famous for its use of local games, such as the manicou (a small opossum) and the agouti (a large indigenous rodent), but you will have to be an intrepid diner to go that route.

FESTIVALS

JAZZ 'N CREOLE

Dominica's Jazz 'n Creole, first presented in 2010, is a fusion of jazz and creole music, food and culture. This family event is held annually at Fort Shirley in the Cabrits National Park during the Pentecost holiday weekend. A number of fringe events organized by private stakeholders precede the main stage event. Past performers at the festival include Arturo Tappin, Michele Henderson, Marlow Rosado y la Riquena, Ronald Tulle, Alfredo de la Fe, Monty Alexander, Beethva Obas, Eric Ildefonse Quartet, Angelique Kidjo, Cameron Pierre, Heston Francis, and Jacques Schwarz-Bart Trio.

WORLD CREOLE MUSIC FESTIVAL.

The World Creole Music Festival was launched to promote Dominica as a tourism destination, to expose local musicians to an international audience and to assist in the sustainable development of an international Creole Music industry. The annual event was created in 1996 and the first edition kicked off in 1997 during international Creole month October also as a means of boosting tourist arrivals to Dominica (during its Independence celebrations), and to increase revenue from stay-over visitors coming to the island for this celebration which culminates on November 3.

The World Creole Music Festival has attracted some of the most renowned musical groups and soloists from the Creole-speaking world, such as: Kassav', Tabou Combo,

EXPLORE

Exile One, Gramacks/New Generation, WCK, Triple Kay Global, T-Vice, First Serenade, Zouk Machine, Magnum Band, Zin, Taxi Creole, Carimi, Ophelia Marie, Michele Henderson, Tanya St. Val, Sakis, and Francky Vincent.

CARNIVAL

Carnival, or 'The Real Mas', is a pre-Lenten festival, and usually falls in February or March each year. It is unquestionably the most festive season in Dominica. It is hard to miss the fervour of the people's loyalty to their favourite calypsonian or pageant during the preceding months of the Calypso Final and the National Queen Show.

INDEPENDENCE

Every year, the country commemorates its Independence with a season of cultural activities which can last as long as four weeks. These celebrations portray vivid examples of the island's cultural influences. The traditional dances display European traces in Hill & Toe, Waltz, and Quadrille; and borrow from African native dances in Bèlè.

This mélange of Creole culture predominates at this time of year, as villages and communities throughout the island compete to show their superiority in preserving and developing different cultural expressions.

NIGHTLIFE

NIGHTLIFE

The friendly, intimate atmosphere and colorful patrons at the numerous bars and hangouts will keep you entertained for hours. Jazz, calypso, reggae, steel band, soca (a variation of calypso), and cadence-zouk, or jing ping — a type of folk music featuring the accordion, the quage (a kind of washboard instrument), drums, and a "boom boom" (a percussion instrument) — are all heard on the island. Wednesday through Saturday nights are really lively, and during Carnival, Independence, and summer celebrations, things can be intense. Indeed, Dominica's Carnival, the pre-Lenten festival, is the most spontaneous in the Caribbean. Other big cultural events include Emancipation celebrations hosted by the National Cultural Council each August.

ABOUT NTL TRUST

We develop secure and compliant cross-border wealth management solutions. Our clients are financial professionals, global entrepreneurs, investors and their families: individuals who value a fresh and independent approach by partners who speak their language, based on traditional values such as personal service, discretion and prudence. Our specialty is holistic international planning. We coordinate not just corporate, trust and private banking matters, but we also advise on and implement essential residence and citizenship strategies that are too often taken for granted. We help clients not just with legal tax mitigation and asset protection, but more importantly to manage broader geo-political and macroeconomic risk and opportunity.

NTL Trust's business immigration programs are aimed at successful global entrepreneurs who may not need a second citizenship, but are looking to establish residence – whether temporary or permanent – to facilitate worldwide travel, to open a business in a friendly low tax country, and to provide a safe and secure base for their families. The handful of countries we have chosen to work with may not be obvious choices, but we invite you to read further as they 'check the boxes' for us and many of our clients.

ON ISLAND EXPERTS

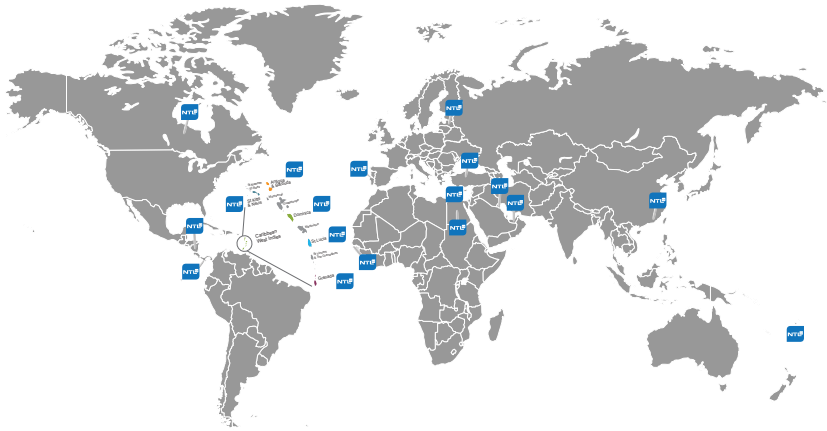

NTL Trust's citizenship coordinators work extensively with clients and closely with the governments to ensure the best possible outcomes in the application process. Our island-based coordinators have all local knowledge of real estate developments on the islands to help NTL Trust's worldwide clientele to make the right decision when it comes to real estate investment. And our legal team gives support 'from A to Z' at each application package before submitting it to the Government.

If you decide that you would like to visit any of these beautiful countries, NTL Trust can coordinate hotels, activities, visits to approved real estate developments and points of interest. Please contact us to schedule a visit to any of these jurisdictions!
